MMIRA Mixed Methods
International Research Association

MMIRA International Conference 2018

Mixed Methods International Research Association

22nd - 25th August 2018, Vienna

On behalf of the MMIRA Executive Board, we are delighted to welcome delegates from the global mixed methods research community to the University of Vienna for our third MMIRA Global Conference. We are very appreciative of the dedication and hard work of our conference co-chairs Judith Schoonenboom and Heinz Ganser and their committee members for organizing what promises to be intellectually stimulating and enjoyable interactions around the conference theme “Gaining New Ground: Depending and Expanding the Field of Mixed Methods.”

For those delegates who are already members of MMIRA we are happy to see you participate in your association’s activities! We also extend a special welcome and an invitation to those delegates who are not yet members to please consider joining our association comprising over 800 global mixed methods researchers. MMIRA aims to create an international community to promote and to support interdisciplinary mixed methods research. Formally established in 2013, the mission of MMIRA includes bringing together diverse communities of scholars, students, practitioners, policymakers, citizens, and other stakeholders, with the goals of expanding knowledge and producing social betterment and social and global justice. There are many member benefits including:

- Online access to the Journal of Mixed Methods Research
- Registration fee discounts to regional and global conferences
- Regular communications (Sunday night email messages)
- Training opportunities (webinars, MOOCs)
- Online resources
- Joining chapters in areas of interest

We also would like to extend an invitation to any organization to apply to become a MMIRA affiliate. An affiliate is a group that extends MMIRA’s mission in combination with a special interest. Affiliates coordinate their efforts separately, but refer to themselves and their activities as “MMIRA affiliated.” MMIRA promotes communities of mixed methods researchers aligned to MMIRA’s bylaws (Article I, Section 2 – see website). Currently, we have welcomed nine affiliates situated worldwide and that range in scope from journals, to software, to country, and language.

We are very grateful to our current Executive Director Jeff Anderson and past Executive Director Burke Johnson for their efforts as well as the MMIRA Executive Board members and committee chairs and their members who have worked tirelessly on behalf of our membership. Here is our 2017-2018 slate of Board members and Committee chairs:

President (2017-2018):	Cheryl Poth
President (2018-2019):	Elizabeth Creamer
President (2016-2017):	Tony Onwuegbuzie
Secretary:	Peggy Shannon-Baker
Treasurer:	Antigoni Papadimitriou
Member at Large:	Mandy Archibald
Member at Large:	Sarah Munce
Student Representative:	Adekunle Oke
Membership Committee Chair:	John Hitchcock
Conference Committee Chair:	Kathy Collins
Communications and Marketing Committee Chair:	Brigitte Smit
Governance Committee Chair:	Vanessa Scherman

Recently, we have held our elections and appointed our committee chairs and these candidates will begin their terms at the Annual General Meeting held at this conference – please come and meet your new 2018-2020 slate of Board members! In addition to the Annual General Meeting, MMIRA will be hosting several sessions:

1. MMIRA Annual General Business Meeting will be held on August 23, 12.15-13.15 (Room U 10). Offers a great opportunity to come to our business meeting to learn about opportunities to get involved and to meet our new 2018-20 MMIRA Executive Board.

2. MMIRA Awards Ceremony and More will be held on August 24, 11.30-13.00 (U 10). Provides a bridge between the end of the conference and the beginning of the workshops by celebrating and hearing from the winners of the MMIRA MAXQDA dissertation and MMIRA global conference travel awards. Come and learn about the awards process as well as plans for the future of our association.

3. MMIRA Mentorship Session will be held on August 22, 15.15-16.45 (Seminar 33). Encourages learning and development of participants' mixed methods research expertise through the interactive and facilitative experience of discussing selective topics with experts in the field of mixed methods research.

4. MMIRA Initiatives Panel will be held on August 23, 09.00-10.30 (U 10). Offers opportunities to learn about recent initiatives, which include webinars, forthcoming MOOCs, Chapters, Affiliates, and future Conferences

5. MMIRA Membership Survey Session will be held on August 24, 10.00-11.30 (U 10). Explores the results of our recent membership survey designed to prompt discussion, to reflect on our past, to celebrate the present, and to plan for the future of our association.

We look forward to seeing you! Please visit our website www.mmira.org for details about MMIRA and to access our contact information.

Regards,

Cheryl Poth

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Professor Nancy Cartwright

First mix the claims; then mix the methods

Wednesday 22nd, 14 - 15h | U 10

Nancy Cartwright is a methodologist/philosopher of science working at Durham University in the UK and the University of California at San Diego in the USA. She has done research on modelling in the natural and social sciences, causal inference, objectivity and, most recently, evidence, especially for evidence-based policy. She has co-authored two books on evidence-based policy, one of which is on general topics, including the need for mixed methods research, the second of which is directed towards child protection practitioners, as well as a number of more philosophical monographs, including two on causation and causal inference. She has served on a number of committees in the UK and USA considering evidence for evidence-based policy, including the US National Research Council, the UK Academy of Medical Sciences, and the UK Department for International Development's Centre of Excellence for Development, Impact and Learning. She is a fellow of the British Academy, of the (British) Academy of Social Sciences, of the German Academy of Science (Leopoldina), and of the American Philosophical Society (the oldest learned society in the US), as well as a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a previous MacArthur Fellow. She was previously a Professor at Stanford University, where she specialized in philosophy of physics, and at the London School of Economics, where her interests turned to the philosophy of the social and economic sciences.

Professor Burke Johnson Moving forward with Mixed Methods Research

Thursday 23rd, 15 - 16h | U 10

Burke Johnson is a professor in the Department of Counseling and Instructional Sciences at the University of South Alabama. His PhD is from the REMS (research, evaluation, measurement, and statistics) program in the College of Education at the University of Georgia. He also has graduate degrees in psychology, sociology, and public administration, which have provided him with a multidisciplinary perspective on research methodology. He was guest editor for a special issue of Research in the Schools focusing on mixed methods research and completed a similar guest editorship for the American Behavioral Scientist. He was an associate editor of the Journal of Mixed Methods Research in its early years, and is currently an Associate Editor of the International Journal of Multiple Research Approaches. Burke is first author of Educational Research: Quantitative, Qualitative, and Mixed Approaches (Sage, 2017, 5th edition); second author of Research Methods, Design, and Analysis (Pearson, 2014, 12th edition); second author of The SAGE Dictionary of Statistics and Methodology (2015); coeditor (with Sharlene Hesse-Biber) of The Oxford Handbook of Multimethod and Mixed Methods Research Inquiry (2015); coeditor (with Paul Vogt) of Correlation and Regression Analysis (2012); and associate editor of The SAGE Glossary of the Social and Behavioral Sciences (2009). Burke is currently working on two edited books: (a) Psychology of Peace: Promoting and Sustaining Peace (Mary Gloria Njoku, Leonard Jason, and Burke Johnson, Springer) and (b) Reviewer's Guide for Mixed Methods Research Analysis (Tony Onwuegbuzie and Burke Johnson, Routledge). Burke's current interests are in advances in mixed methodology and the history and philosophy of social science.

Dr Barbara Soukup - Investigating the dialogical relationship between language use and language attitudes under a mixed-methods logic

Friday 24th, 9 - 10h U 10

Barbara Soukup is an Austrian Science Fund sponsored Elise-Richter Research Fellow at the University of Vienna English Department. She received her M.phil. in English and French studies from the University of Vienna, and her MSc and PhD in linguistics from Georgetown University in Washington, DC, with a specialization in sociolinguistics. A central theme in Soukup's work is the strategic, agentive use of linguistic variation (the various styles/ dialects/ languages available to speakers) for purposes of rhetorical goals and interactional meaning-making, such as the construction of interactional identities, messages, and relationships. In this, she draws on and integrates theory and methodology from all across the sociolinguistic sub-disciplines, notably from variationist sociolinguistics, interactional sociolinguistics, social psychology of language (language attitude study), linguistic landscape study, cognitive sociolinguistics, and perceptual dialectology. These fields operate with a great variety and disparity of methodological approaches, including diverging pulls towards quantitative or qualitative research methods. Soukup's publications have straddled the concomitant divides by applying a mixed-methods rationale to her research, notably conceptualizing objects of inquiry such as language ideologies and attitudes in terms of discursive constructs that are amenable to both the (quantitative) study of generalized, wide-spread, stereotypical patterns, as well as (qualitative) in-depth analyses of fully contextualized instantiations. She currently explores the patterns of occurrence and interactional functions of "English in the Linguistic Landscape of Vienna, Austria" in a large-scale project of the same name, financed by the Austrian Science Fund (Project Nr. V 394-G23).

WORKSHOPS

FRIDAY 24TH 14:00 - 17:00

Johnson, Tucker, McLain, Ivatt, Onwuegbuzie (Seminarr. 33)
Applying Dialectical Pluralism in Mixed Methods Research

John Creswell and Justine Wu (Seminarr. 34)
Embedding Mixed Methods Research into Experiments

Elizabeth Creamer (Seminarr. 41)
Fully Integrated Mixed Method Research Approaches

Pat Bazeley (Seminarr. 42)
Integrating Mixed Methods Analyses

Jennifer Greene (Seminarr. 43)
Meeting the Challenges of “Voice” in Writing up the Results of Mixed Methods Social Inquiry

SATURDAY 25TH 9:00 - 12:00

Tony Onwuegbuzie and John Hitchcock (Seminarr. 33)
Advanced Mixed Analyses

Udo Kuckartz (Seminarr. 34)
Mixed Methods Data Analysis with MAXQDA (Featuring Joint Displays)

Donna Mertens (Seminarr. 41)
Mixed Methods Design as a Tool to Enhance Social Justice

Vicki Plano Clark and Peggy Shannon-Baker (Seminarr. 42)
Navigating Mixed Methods Research: Connecting the Field of Mixed Methods to Your Research Practices

Mike Fetters (Seminarr. 43)
Publishing your paper: Meet the Editor of the Journal of Mixed Methods Research

SATURDAY 25TH 13:00 - 16:00

Kathy Collins and Cheryl Poth (Seminarr. 33)
An Integrated Approach to Designing a Mixed Methods Research Course: Applicable for Face-to-Face and Online Settings

Floryt van Wesel (Seminarr. 34)
Conducting a Mixed Studies Review

Dominik Froehlich and Jasperina Brouwer (Seminarr. 41)
Introduction to (Mixed Method) Social Network Analysis

Sharlene Hesse-Biber (Seminarr. 42)
Qualitative Approaches to Mixed Methods Research Inquiry: Design & Analysis

Nataliya Ivankova and Ivan Herbey (Seminarr. 43)
Using Mixed Methods with Community-Based Participatory Action Research to Facilitate a Meaningful Change

PRESENTATIONS SCHEDULE

August, 22, 13.00 - 14.00 | Hörsaal U 10 | Opening Ceremony

August, 22, 14.00 - 15.00 | U 10 | Keynote Professor Nancy Cartwright

August, 22, 15.15 - 16.45 | Seminar 33 | MMIRA Sponsored Session

Mentorship for Introductory Mixed methods research
- MMIRA Sponsored Session

Archibald, Collins,
Johnson, Creamer,
Onwuegbuzie, Mertens,
Plano Clark, Froehlich

August, 22, 15.15 - 16.45 | U 11 | Reflections on Integration

Presenter, Co-Presenter:

1 The Quest for Integration in Mixed Methods Inquiry

Noemi Novello
Decataldo

2 Conceptual Models to Guide Integration during Analysis in Convergent Mixed Methods Studies

Ellen Moseholm

3 Styles as an integration concept for mixed method research
- Theoretical integration for mixed methods research

Marco Schmitt
Barnat

August, 22, 15.15 - 16.45 | U 12 | Innovative Approaches to Data Integration

1 Sequential Mixed Methods Sampling: How Quantitative Secondary Data Can Support Qualitative Sampling Plans and Theoretical Sampling

Andrea Hense

2 Thinking About Existing Data: Archival Mixed Methods
Analysis Strategies

David Reeping
Repisky

3 Atypical approaches to mixed methods integration: Data transformation via the qualitisisation of quantitative data

Delyth Wyndham

August, 22, 15.15 - 16.45 | U 13 | Developing and Using Joint Displays in Mixed Methods Research

1 Visual Joint Displays with Graphs and Images to Represent
Mixed Methods Integration

Timothy Guettermann

2 The analytic process of developing a joint display in a mixed methods study: An example from the use of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) in secondary schools in Jamaica project

Tashane Haynes-Brown
Fetters

3 Developing Fully Integrated Joint Display Data Collection and Analysis Tools

Jonathan Engelman

4 Interactive Joint Displays in MAXQDA for Mixed Methods
Data Analysis

Stefan Rädiker

August, 22, 15.15 - 16.45 | U 14 | Mixed Methods Approaches to Health Care Inequality

1 Quantitizing qualitative data for use in a multi-level analysis:
the case of explaining variation in emergency ambulance use

Alicia O'Cathain
Knowles, Bishop-Edwards

2 Mechanisms and drivers of social inequality in phase II cardiac rehabilitation attendance: a Convergent Mixed
Methods study

Maria Pedersen

3 Marginalised young people's health system navigation:
Using mixed methods in a narrative systematic review

Fiona Robards
Kang, Usherwood,
Huckel Schneider, Sanci

4 The use of mixed methods in health research in Brazil:
integrative review

José Luís Santos
Fabrizzio, Silveira
Preis, Kopsel

August, 22, 15.15 - 16.45 | U 15 | Mixed Methods Studies in Aging

1 How do perceptions of financial preparation for retirement explain the relationship between financial preparation and retirement delay in Jamaica?

Julian McKoy Davis
Eldemire-Shearer

2 Physical activity and sedentary behaviour pre and post retirement: a mixed methods protocol

Karl Spiteri
Broom, Grafton,
Xerri de Caro

August, 22, 15.15 - 16.45 U 16 Mixed Methods Approaches to Educational Assessment			2 Teaching Managers how to do Mixed Methods Research? An empirical approach.	Christine Salmen
1 The Dilemmas of conducting a Mixed Methods Phenomenological Research (MMPR)	Jane Nebe		3 The challenges of engaging widening access tourism, hospitality and events undergraduates: best practices in teaching and learning mixed methods research	Violet Cuffy
2 Unequal Access to Well-Rounded Education in American Schools: Mixed Methods Study	Dijana Ihas		4 Developing Communities of Practice for Mixed Methods Research: Experiences from Two Reading Groups	Marcy Antonio Archibald, Toraman, Poth

What is MAXQDA?

MAXQDA is a world-leading software package for qualitative and mixed methods research, used by thousands of researchers in more than 150 countries around the world. There is no qualitative or mixed methods approach that MAXQDA doesn't support. From the first steps to the final presentation - MAXQDA will assist you throughout your project.

MAXQDA helps you collect, organize, analyze, visualize and publish your data. Our software supports various methodological frameworks, giving you maximum freedom and flexibility to analyze what you want, the way you want.

MAXQDA can handle more file types than you think: documents, PDF files, tables, images, media files, Twitter tweets, geo references, bibliographical data and more.

THE Mixed Methods Expert

Analyze quantitative and qualitative data side by side, use demographics to filter and group qualitative data, or quantify your qualitative results.

Teamwork Made Simple

100% identical and compatible on Windows and Mac, and smart teamwork features to help you work together.

Methodological Flexibility

MAXQDA supports multiple methodological frameworks, giving you maximum freedom and flexibility.

All Your Data

And more file types than you might think: analyze documents, PDFs, tables, images, videos, Twitter, geo-references and more.

Your Research Journey

MAXQDA supports you every step of the way. From collecting data in the field to publishing your findings.

User Friendly

MAXQDA's easy-to-use interface and free tutorials, manuals and webinars will get you started in no time.

“ I have used other qualitative analysis software packages but have found that for me, MAXQDA combines power and flexibility with ease of use. [...] The whole package is designed to be used by people who want to focus on their analysis, not the software.

August, 23, 10.45 - 12.15 Seminar 33 Mixed Methods Approaches to Educational Technology
1	A systematic Review of Mixed Method Studies in Educational Technology	Yesim Capa Aydin Yüksel Arslan, Keser Aschenberger
2	Examining how beliefs shape action in Jamaican teachers' use of Information and Communication Technology (ICT): A mixed methods study	Tashane Haynes-Brown

Considered by many to be the only true mixed-methods qualitative data analysis software on the market today, QDA Miner is an easy-to-use software package for coding, annotating, retrieving and analyzing small and large collections of documents and images.

QDA Miner offers higher levels of computer-assistance for qualitative coding, analysis, and report writing than any other qualitative software on the market. Its seamless integration with WordStat, a content analysis and text mining software, gives you more flexibility for analyzing text data.

QDA MINER

QDA Miner is an easy-to-use model qualitative data analysis software package for coding, annotating, retrieving and analyzing small and large collections of documents and images. QDA Miner analyzes interview or focus group transcripts, legal documents, journal articles, speeches, even entire books, as well as drawings, photographs, paintings, and other types of visual documents. Its seamless integration with SimStat, a statistical data analysis tool, and WordStat, a quantitative content analysis and text mining module, gives you unprecedented flexibility for analyzing text and relating its contents to structured information including numerical and categorical data.

PROSUITE

ProSuite is an integrated collection of Provalis Research tools allowing one to explore, analyze and relate both structured and unstructured data. It allows one to perform qualitative coding on documents and images using QDA Miner, to apply the powerful content analysis and text mining features of WordStat on textual data, and to perform advanced statistical analysis on numerical and categorical data using SimStat.

WORDSTAT

WordStat is a flexible and easy to use text analysis software – whether you need fast extraction of themes and trends, or careful and precise measurement with a state-of-the-art quantitative content analysis tool. WordStat's seamless integration with SimStat – our statistical data analysis tool – QDA Miner – our qualitative data analysis software – and Stata – the comprehensive statistical software from StataCorp – gives you unprecedented flexibility for analyzing text and relating its content to structured information, including numerical and categorical data.

Practical Research and Academic Skills

The newest collection of streaming video on the SAGE Research Methods platform gives researchers confidence to navigate their work, take responsibility for their professional development & identify transferable skills vital for their career progression.

SAGE Campus online data science courses

Our online courses have been developed in collaboration with social science experts and each course provides practical data science skills that can be applied to real-life social research.

Dialectical Publishing

Call for Manuscripts

Published by Dialectical Publishing Inc. - an affiliate of MMIRA - International Journal of Multiple Research Approaches (IJMRA) is a premiere outlet for innovative and seminal work in the fields of both mixed methods research and multimethod research.

We hope that you will consider submitting your future manuscripts to IJMRA. IJMRA publishes empirical, methodological, theoretical, conceptual, historical, and humanistic discussions related to multimethod research and mixed methods research. The goal of IJMRA is to disseminate a broad set of approaches that facilitate understanding of complex social, behavioral, health, educational, historical, and political concerns pertaining to the human condition and natural world. The IJMRA Editors invite manuscripts from a wide variety of international perspectives, including academics, practitioners, stakeholders, and policymakers from across the social, behavioral, health, and human sciences.

A particular focus of IJMRA is to advance integration techniques in both multimethod research and mixed methods research. As such, IJMRA is not only applicable for mixed methods researchers but also is applicable for qualitative researchers and quantitative researchers.

We are particularly in need of quality articles to publish in our December 2018 (i.e., Volume 10, Issue 2) and April 2019 (i.e., Volume 11, Issue 1) issues. Therefore, if you submit a quality manuscript soon, you could see your work published within several months!

For submitting manuscripts for consideration for publication in the IJMRA via ScholarOne, please use the following link:

<https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/rmra>

Thank you for your consideration.

Warmest regards,

Tony Onwuegbuzie and John Hitchcock
